Connecting as friends across London

Meetings for worship, meetings with attention to business, events, courses and special interest groups are enabling friends to connect across London. This is creating energy and joy and a new sense of community and shared witness. Details of these activities and details of the merger process are shared online on the QiL website <https://quakersinlondon.org/>. Here you can find documents, the schedule of nominations, the QiL Offer of Service form, a 'contact us' form and a link to the new online meeting resource – The Quill. This can be accessed directly at <https://friends.quakersinlondon.org/>. There is plenty of interesting information in the Blog and Events sections, plus advertisements for recruitment to essential posts.

You can subscribe to The Quill newsletter at quill@quakersinlondon.org.

Are you planning an event that could be of interest to Quakers beyond your meeting? Why not post the details here? <https://friends.quakersinlondon.org/events/>. Can you write an article about interests, witness or projects? (Check with your local meeting first if writing on their behalf.)
